Revealed in 1972 in the Rock Opera "Jesus Christ Superstar" with Marie Magdalene's role, Anne Marie DAVID wins the Eurovision Song Contest in 1973 for Luxemburg with her song "Tu te reconnaitras" (Wonderful Dream).

This success opens her the doors of an international career, and she has recorded in several languages like French, English, German, Spanish, Italian, and Turkish.

In Turkey she becomes a real star. A jury of 400 journalists gives her the "Oscar International des Variétés in 1974. Exceptionally, Anne Marie receives it again in 1975. She is the only artist in the world to get it twice!

In 2003 a friend of her asks her to come back on stage for a private concert in a restaurant in TOULOUSE. She hesitates much, but finally she sings, one night some of her successes.

She had never opened her mouth for fifteen years but all the professional reflexes come back naturally.

Some weeks later, a record producer prepares a compilation with 18 of her French titles. She immediately writes some lines to introduce it. This CD album called "Je suis l'enfant soleil" has become one of the best sell on Internet, without any promotion from the medias.
